To Our Shareholders

We would like to extend our sincerest gratitude to all of our shareholders for their continued support. Canon Marketing Japan Inc. is pleased to present this notice to convene the 52nd Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders.

Looking back at our Group performance over the fiscal year in review (from January 1, 2019 to December 31, 2019), despite expansion in IT solutions, which is positioned as a growth business, we recorded a slight decline in sales, reflecting sluggish conditions on markets for digital SLR cameras and home-use inkjet printers. However, IT solutions generated higher gross profit on the back of increased sales, and operating income also rose, reflecting the continued reduction of SG&A expenses. At the 52nd Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders, we will be proposing a year-end dividends of 30 yen per share. Together with the interim dividends (30 yen per share), this will bring the full-year dividends to 60 yen per share (unchanged from the previous fiscal year).

Under our Three-Year Management Plan 2020 to 2022, we expect that market conditions for Canon main products such as cameras and printers will remain challenging. However, we will maintain profitability by increasing productivity through efficient business operations. We will also further strengthen IT solutions, which remains a pillar of growth, and improve their profitability. Through this, we aim to achieve growth in both sales and profits.

We sincerely appreciate the continued support of our valued shareholders.

BUSINESS REPORT

Item No. 4: Election of Accounting Auditor

Ernst & Young ShinNihon LLC will retire as the Company's Accounting Auditor due to expiry of its term of office at the conclusion of the Ordinary General Meeting of Shareholders.

Based on the decision of the Audit & Supervisory Board, we would like you to elect Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu LLC for the position of Accounting Auditor.

Although Ernst & Young ShinNihon LLC has good systems for ensuring that accounting audits are conducted properly and appropriately, given that it has been auditing the Company's accounts for a long period of time and also prompted by consideration of a change of accounting auditor by Canon Inc., the parent company, the Audit & Supervisory Board judged that it is time for a change of accounting auditor.

Accordingly, the Audit & Supervisory Board concluded that Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu LLC is an appropriate candidate for the new accounting auditor given that, in light of its independence, expertise, quality control system and other factors, Deloitte Touche Tohmatsu LLC will conduct audits properly and that a change in accounting auditor can be expected to result in audits from a fresh perspective.

1. Current Conditions of Canon Marketing Japan and its consolidated subsidiaries (the "Group")

(1) Business Progress and Achievement

■ General Business Conditions

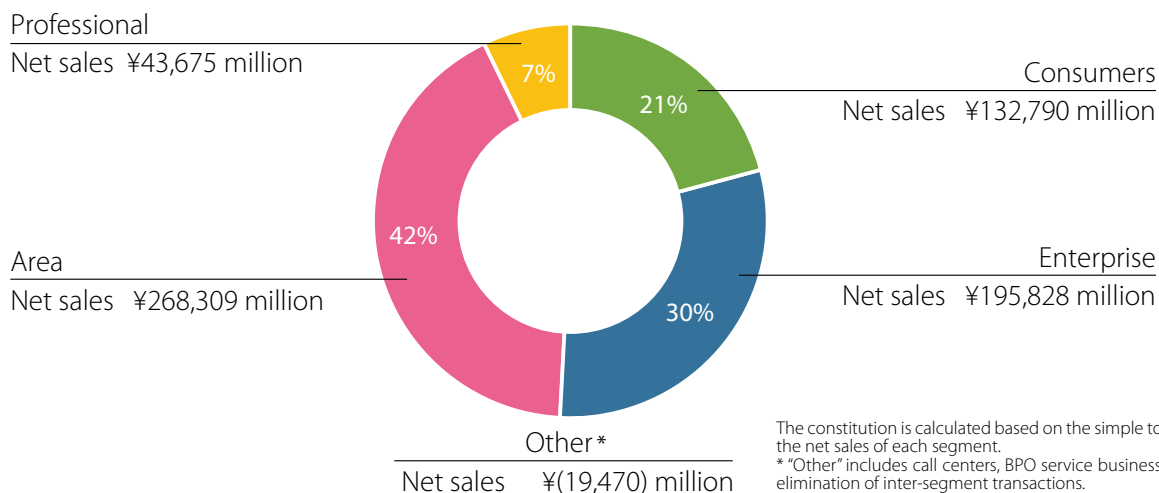

Looking back at the Japanese economy over this year, business confidence continued to deteriorate, especially in the manufacturing industry, amid rising trade tensions. However, businesses tended to increase their IT investment and other capital investment. Meanwhile, the outlook for consumer spending remains unclear, despite measures such as the introduction of reduced tax rates for everyday essentials to limit the impact of the consumption tax hike, and consumer sentiment continued to appear weak.

Against this economic backdrop, although sales of IT solutions to large enterprises and SMEs grew, sales of digital SLR cameras, industrial equipment and other products fell, and we recorded net sales of ¥621,134 million (down 0.1% from the previous year).

In terms of income, mainly due to higher gross profit on the back of increased sales of IT solutions and lower expenses, we achieved operating income of ¥32,439 million (up 12.1%) and ordinary income of ¥33,937 million (up 11.2%). Profit attributable to owners of parent came to ¥22,250 million (up 6.8%).

Starting with this Year, the segment classification has been changed. In the year-on-year comparisons contained in this report, the prior-year figures have been adjusted to reflect the new classification.

■ Constitution of Net Sales by Segment

Business Conditions by Segment

Consumers

Net sales ¥132,790 million

Operating income ¥6,865 million

Sales of mirrorless cameras decreased in the absence of the sharp growth in the sales volume of models such as EOS KissM seen the previous fiscal year, despite efforts to expand sales of products such as EOS RP, a full-frame mirrorless camera. Sales of digital SLR cameras declined as a result of market contraction, and overall sales of digital interchangeable lens cameras also fell. Meanwhile, sales of compact digital cameras also decreased due to the shrinking market. We continued to maintain top shares in the markets for digital SLR cameras, mirrorless cameras and compact digital cameras respectively.

Sales of inkjet printers grew mainly due to strong sales of printers with the extra-large capacity tank GIGA TANK, which offset decline in home-use inkjet printers amid sluggish market conditions. Sales of ink cartridges decreased owing primarily to a reduction in printing volume. We maintained the largest share of the inkjet printer market for the sixth year running.

Sales of IT products declined, reflecting decreased sales of consumables such as SD cards and peripherals despite a steady performance in products such as gaming PCs.

As a result, net sales in this segment totaled ¥132,790 million (down 11.6% from the previous year). Operating income came to ¥6,865 (down 6.5% from the previous year).

BUSINESS REPORT

Business Conditions by Segment

Enterprise

Net sales ¥195,828 million

Operating income ¥10,070 million

Sales to the financial sector increased, reflecting strong revenue from large projects such as SI projects for securities firms and investment product sales support systems for shinkin banks.

Sales to the manufacturing sector grew on the back of steady revenue from a demand forecasting system project for a drinks manufacturer and a large commercial data gathering terminal project for a food manufacturer.

Sales to the distribution sector rose, bolstered by steady revenue from a POP production system project for the retail industry, a large office MFP project for the telecommunications industry, and large network camera projects for security firms and trading companies.

At Canon IT Solutions Inc., sales of SI services rose slightly due to the acquisition of numerous projects mainly for the manufacturing industry, offsetting the absence of large projects for the financial industry recorded the previous year. Canon IT Solutions also performed well in data center services and won a number of large infrastructure system projects as well as projects in other areas such as embedded system projects. As a result, it reported an increase in sales.

Meanwhile, sales of office MFP printers in the Enterprise segment decreased, reflecting the absence of large projects recorded the previous year and tighter control of unprofitable projects. Sales of laser printers grew, largely due to an order received for a large project for a life insurance company.

Laser printers

As a result, net sales in this segment totaled ¥195,828 million (up 4.1% from the previous year). Operating income was ¥10,070 million (up 15.4%) largely due to higher gross profit as a result of increased sales and strong performances in highly profitable businesses at Canon IT Solutions.

Nishi-Tokyo Data Center

Business Conditions by Segment Area

Net sales ¥268,309 million
 Operating income ¥14,398 million

Sales of business equipment declined, reflecting weak shipment volumes to SMEs despite expansion in sales of office MFPs mainly among core customers. Meanwhile, sales of laser printers grew, despite their continued integration in office MFPs, thanks to progress expanding sales to specific industries and active proposal of introduction to coincide with the replacement of business PCs.

In the Area segment, IT solutions are provided mainly by Canon System & Support Inc. This Year, shipment volumes increased sharply due to the progressive replacement of business PCs among SMEs as a result of the end of extended support for Windows7. Sales also grew, reflecting bundled proposals of the cloud-based IT support service for Office 365 HOME, the antivirus software ESET and various types of software for increasing business efficiency upon the replacement of business PCs.

As a result, net sales in this segment totaled ¥268,309 million (up 4.2% from the previous year). Operating income amounted to ¥14,398 million (up 19.2%) due to higher gross profit associated with increased sales of highly profitable IT solutions.

(Healthcare)

As a result, net sales in this segment totaled ¥43,675 million (down 5.9% from the previous year). However, operating income reached ¥1,617 million (up 89.9%), mainly due to cost cutting.

(2) Capital Expenditures

The capital expenditures by the Group during this fiscal year totaled ¥19,921 million, which are mainly as rented assets, tools, fixtures and fittings, and ancillary facilities at our Nishi-Tokyo Data Center.

(3) Issues to be Addressed

We expect that the outlook for the Japanese economy will remain unclear due to decline in demand caused by the consumption tax hike as well as uncertainty surrounding the outcome of trade disputes and overseas economies, the impact of fluctuations in in financial and capital markets, and other factors.

Against this economic backdrop, the domestic market for Canon's major products, in other words, the digital cameras, inkjet printers, office MFPs and laser printers that we sell, is expected to contract and we believe we must urgently formulate and implement strategies to maintain profitability by increasing productivity even in a contracting market. On the other hand, we expect that the market for IT solutions, which we position as a growth business, will remain continue to show an expansionary trend. Our challenge in the IT solutions business is to leverage the strong customer base we built up through document solutions and the IT technological capability and various other strengths we acquired through M&A and other means to further strengthen our business domain where we can demonstrate our characteristics.

We will work to expand our business operations and improve our performance by implementing the initiatives described below.

1. Maintain the profitability of Canon's major products

• Interchangeable lens digital cameras

We will seek to expand sales by strengthening our lineup of mirrorless cameras focusing on full-frame models. We will also seek to reenergize the market as the leading digital camera manufacturer.

• Inkjet printers

We will work to expand high added value models for home use and business printers and large capacity tank printers.

• Office MFPs

We will seek to increase our market share through competitive products and well-aimed solution proposals as well as further improve efficiency of our maintenance services.

• Laser printers

We will continue to expand sales to specific industries with large printing volumes to increase our market share and we will translate this into increase sales of cartridges.

2. Strengthen IT solutions business

• Achieve high productivity in SI services business and expansion in business scale

We will make effective use of our customer base to expand business specific solutions and we will also seek to shift from existing contract-based system development to proposal-based development and service provision-based SI utilizing packaged software.

BUSINESS REPORT

• Increase added value of IT services business

The Nishi-Tokyo Data Center, including Phase II which will go into operation this year, will play a central role in expanding added value business such as system monitoring and security operation and cloud-based services in a bid to strengthen profitability.

• Expand IT solutions business for SMEs

As an “IT concierge” that meets the IT needs of SMEs, our largest customer base, we will increase profitability by proposing solutions based on backbone packaged software and security products and by seeking to expand IT-related maintenance services.

• Expand BPO business

We will establish business-specific BPO models based on a thorough knowledge of each type of business and provide services with high levels of expertise and productivity.
